

Curriculum vitae

Mark Roberts

Environmental Scientist

Mark is a qualified environmental scientist with experience in environmental assessments, and environmental and foreign aid consulting.

He has particular expertise in the preparation of environmental impact assessments and management plans for infrastructure and mining projects.

Fields of competence

- Environmental review, planning and impact assessment.

Key industry sectors

- Mining and extractive industries
- Infrastructure and utilities
- Resource recovery

Professional Qualifications

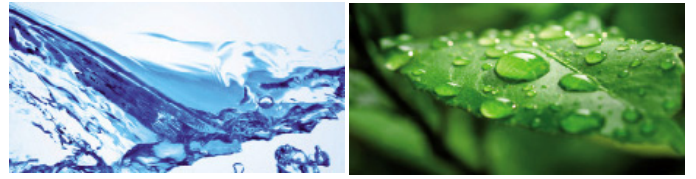

- Bachelor of Environmental Science, University of Western Sydney, 2005. Graduate Diploma in Environmental Studies, Macquarie University, 2010.

Career

2009 to present: EMGA Mitchell McLennan Pty Limited, Environmental Scientist

- Assisted in the preparation of an environmental assessment for the expansion of coal mining activities in the Hunter Valley NSW assessed under the provisions of Part 3A of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.
 - Reviewed an EA for a waste facility proposed to be located adjacent to a horse agistment property, prepared advice regarding wind directions in the Hunter Valley and prepared advice regarding transport corridors for potential coal mines for an Australian horse breeder.
 - Prepared numerous Review of Environmental Factors and Construction Environmental Management Plans, and provided planning advice for sewer rehabilitation projects in Sydney.
 - Conducted research and prepared a scoping report for AusAID regarding the potential for Australian assistance to the mining sectors of African countries.
 - Prepared Review of Environmental Factors for geothermal test bores in regional NSW.
 - Prepared a visual impact report for gas test bores in regional NSW.
 - Prepared a Section 75W modification for a gas well in the Sydney metropolitan area.
 - Prepared a submission on behalf of a resource company in regard to the Draft NSW Biodiversity Strategy.
-

Curriculum vitae

Mark Roberts

Environmental Scientist

December 2004 to February 2005: Blue Mountains City Council, Environmental Consultant

- Mark conducted research into the viability of green waste recycling, and increased building and demolition waste recycling in the Blue Mountains Local Government Area.
-